About Us

During the 1970's, both Homebush Cakes and Granny's started to make names for themselves.

Granny's, owned by a small group of WA businessmen, pioneered their distinctive oval-shaped pie and Homebush Cakes, started by Jeremy Burston's mother, Val Leone, began making French-inspired delicacies.

Granny's continued growing their reputation on the West Coast throughout the decades, finally moving to their purpose-built factory in 2005 in Malaga.

Jeremy took over Homebush Cakes in 1996. Meanwhile Jamie, on the other side of the country, refined both his business and his baking skills under the tutelage of his father. The pair joined paths in 2013.

As business partners they made steps to becoming bakery powerhouses with the purchase of Granny's in late 2018.

By taking on Granny's HACCP-accredited premises in WA, as well as the company's brand and staff, Homebush Bay Foods is now uniquely placed to distribute competitive bakery delicacies to the homes and businesses of Australia.
